

Norsk Grotteblad nr 7, 1981

Ungdomsskoleelever utforsker grotte i Rana

Cave exploration and surveying as a school project

We are five boys who have all a strong interest in caves and cave exploration. During our lessons in outdoor-life, we found a new cave which was explored and surveyed. The cave is branched, with a dry and a wet section. The stream passage can be followed to a sumping pool which contained some pale fishes.