En begynnelse på Norges Grottearkiv i Mo i Rana

Norwegian cave archives at the museum in Mo i Rana

Norwegian cave archives have now been established at the museum in Mo i Rana. The Archives contain all available information about all known caves in Norway. The author stresses the necessity of all cavers who gain new information to hand this over to the museum. The Norwegian Speleological Society must work out rules for who shall have admittance to the information, for conservation reasons.

The Archives also contain a file for Norsk Grotteblad where all subjects are filed systematically.
