Dykking i Glomdalen i 1985

Diving in Glomdalen.

Prior to joint British-Norwegian diving, the Norwegian divers visited "Green Rising", which offered poor visibility, and "Juta" which was tight and unstable. "Storbekkgrotta" however, was dived to 39 m (12 m depth) via "Pendantrøret" and gave good value. The dive ended in a chamber where a large passage was seen to branch off to the left and upwards.
