

Norsk Grotteblad nr 27, Januar 1994

På jakt etter nye hull i Stortuvhola

During several trips to Stortuvhola cavers have noticed small passages which are not on the map. Therefore some cavers arranged a trip to discover these passages. They divided into groups with responsibility for the different passages. During the trip they pressed several small "new" passages, and they could also notice a potential for further discoveries later.