

Norsk Grotteblad nr 27, Januar 1994

Overflatekarst ved Satertind, Saltdal

This is a report from a mountain trip to Satertind in Saltdal. The rock types of this area are mainly "uninteresting". At some small locations they eventually found some marble. In the marble they observed karren, stone bridges, some small caves and some other karst occurrences.