

Norsk Grotteblad nr 40, Mars 2003

Oppdagelsen av Fiskegrotta

Discovery of Fiskegrotta.

In August 1968 some disappointing days had been spent on an expedition to Plura. On the last day, however, a rift close to riverbed led to discovery of a passage 6-700 meters long. Pale and apparently blind trouts were found in some pools in the cave – hence the name of the cave.