

Norsk Grotteblad nr 43, November 2004

Fant 3000 år gammelt hulemaleri i Lofoten

3000 year old paintings in Lofoten

In 1989 cave paintings were discovered in Refsvikhula on the outside of Moskenesøy. Cave paintings have been discovered as well in Værøy and Røst and - in 2002 - in Kabelvåg. Also, discovered in 2002 were paintings of human figures in a cave between Refsvikhula and Bunesstranda.

Professor Helskog at Tromsø Museum considers the findings very interesting.