

Norsk Grotteblad nr 50, Juni 2008

Russågrotta

Russågrotta

Russågrotta is a beautiful cave, formed in 100 % white marble. On the map it is easy to see where the Russåga river goes underground. The entrance is on the northern side of a dry riverbed, at the bottom of the bluff. A small rope is an advantage at the entrance and so are rubber boots inside the cave. The cave should not be visited during or shortly afterwards wet periods.