Kristoffergrotta

In late July 2001, a group of 8 cave divers wanted to visit Kristoffergrotta, which is situated somewhere between Rausandaksla and Stillelvdal close to Reingardsli outside Mo i Rana. The caving veteran Per Gunnar Hjorthen had promised to guide the team to the cave. First they found a smaller cave, named Nedre Kristoffergrotta; then they localized the 600 meters long main cave. Having free dived the sumps in the system, they returned a few days later and dived through the sumps once more, connecting the two caves. The cave system is complex, with several levels and galleries.
